Today the remains were taken to Wilton, Iowa, where they were laid to rest beside her late husband in Wilton cemetery.

Mrs. McIntyre, a pioneer settler of Wilton, passed away Friday at her home in Muscatine after a short illness with pneumonia and grippe. Josephine F. Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Cooper, was born in Cooperstown, Pa., May 15, 1881, making her home at that place with her parents until 1881 when she was married to marriage with Robert A. McIntyre also of that place. In 1886 the family moved westward, settling shortly afterward in Wilton, Iowa, where they built what was then known as the McIntyre hotel, which hotel they continued to operate several years after coming to Muscatine. While a resident of Wilton, Mrs. McIntyre was one of the most prominent church workers, being instrumental in the extension of religion at that place during the many years of her life there. She was one of the charter members and founders of the Presbyterian church at Wilton, and upon moving to Muscatine became a member of the First Presbyterian church in which she was prominent until her health compelled her to discontinue activities of all kinds. She leaves three sons, James E. McIntyre of Colorado Springs, Colo., C. C. McIntyre of Davenport and W. B. McIntyre of this city, and one daughter, Mabel, her constant companion, who had lived with her mother constantly throughout her life.

Fifty years ago she came west, settling at Le Claire, Iowa. Fifteen years later she moved to Princeton, Iowa, then to Corcoran, Ill., where she resided 20 years before coming to Rock Island to make her home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Sibley and Mrs. Mary Griswold, Rock Island, and two sons, John Griswold, Iowa, and Samuel of Clinton, Iowa. She also leaves five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 at O'Malley's undertaking parlors, and at 11 o'clock at St. Paul's Catholic church, Father P. Hartnett officiating. Tomorrow at-

Nine children were born to the union, three dying in infancy. In 1898 she was married to Thomas Williams in this city. He preceded her in death five years. Incorporation of the Rock Island Transfer and Storage Concern is Step Toward Improvement.

Three Men in the Enterprise

Frement Klove, Otto S. Hildebrandt and N. B. Gosline to Conduct Reorganized Business in City.

Incorporation papers will be sent to Springfield tomorrow by the Rock Island Transfer and Storage company as a preliminary move toward erecting a large storage house on First avenue.

The incorporation is a reorganization of the Rock Island Storage company, in the past conducted by Klove Brothers. The reorganized company has as incorporators Frement Klove, Otto S. Hildebrandt, former secretary of the Moline Commercial club, and now secretary of the North Side Commercial club in Chicago, and N. B. Gosline, an engineer in the United States engineers office.

Mr. Klove is at present in charge of the company. Mr. Hildebrandt will have no position in Chicago. March 16, to come here, and Mr. Gosline leaves the employ of the government tomorrow. Capital stock is $10,000.

Under the plan the company has for enlarging its business requirement for a large storage house is manifest. It is the plan of the incorporators to erect a building on First avenue. Several sites have been offered for the location of the building. It is probable a four-story brick structure, costing $60,000, will be erected if the necessary deal is closed. The offices of the company for the present will be 124 West Seventeenth street.

Back of Wilson to a Man.

"When the Knights of Columbus of Chicago learned of the diplomatic break with Germany, we met within half an hour and wired President Wilson that we were behind him 300,000 strong, and in case another break comes the president will receive another telegram containing the same thought," he said.

"We are judged by our deeds, rather than by our creed," said Mr. O'Brien. "We must set an example. We are branded by some as being un-American. We are being watched. Therefore there must be no shakiness. Every Catholic has his duty to perform as an American citizen, and great as has been our part in the history of this country in years past, the work cannot stop. Then we must do bigger and better things in the future."

Mr. O'Brien then discussed the great part which people of Catholic faith had played in the development of America since its discovery, through its many wars to the present day.

Mr. O'Brien chose as his subject "The Luther Anniversary." He showed an unlimited knowledge of the subject, handled it from all angles, and it must be said did not show any partiality, rather arguing from both sides. He is a speaker of great personal magnetism and those present listened intently on every word he uttered.
